Governor Stratton Cuts Ribbon to Launch 10-Day Illinois State Fair

SPRINGFIELD (U)—Gov. William G. Stratton, almost mobbed by children, today formally launched the 1954 Illinois State Fair.

Stratton cut a purple ribbon at the main gate of the Fairgrounds to open the annual 10-day exhibition of Illinois' agricultural wealth. He told a crowd of 500, most of them youngsters, that it was going to be a "great fair." Then, accompanied by state officials, he left on a walking tour of some of the exhibits.

Stratton arrived at the gate in a yellow convertible, and a crowd of children immediately swarmed around his car.

"Governor, will you cut the ribbon?" one boy asked. "We're having a fight over who gets it."

"Who's got the scissors?" Stratton asked.

Governor Snips Ribbon
Fair Manager Strother G. Jones handed them to the governor, and he cut the ribbon. He handed several pieces of it to surrounding children, and spent about 20 minutes shaking hands and signing autographs before he started his tour.

A "19-gun" salute of aerial fireworks had greeted Stratton's arrival. The Taylorville municipal band played at the brief ceremony. Fine weather welcomed the fair's opening. It was partly cloudy, but the sun was shining off and on and temperatures were comfortably cool.

More than one million persons are expected to attend the fair during its 1954 run, with 200,000 anticipated next Thursday alone for the visit of President Eisenhower.

Farmers will show off some of the world's finest livestock and agricultural products in competition.

Firestone Workers Strike

CLEVELAND, Ohio (U)—CIO United Rubber Workers walked off their jobs at eight plants of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. early today in a strike for higher wages and bargaining rights.

Some 25,000 employees joined the strike which started at midnight when company and union representatives failed to break an eight-week deadlock over contract provisions.

The struck plants were at Akron, Ohio, Los Angeles, Calif., Des Moines, Iowa, New Castle and Noble, Ind., Pottstown, Pa., Fall River, Mass., and Memphis, Tenn.

The union refused a company offer of five cents an hour increase in wages and said the company failed to make favorable provisions for a new contract. The union seeks 10 cents more an hour. Present wage scale is $2.10 hourly.

The company said that it paid wages "as good as, or better than those paid by the rubber industry in our plant areas." Firestone said the employees would lose "more than $350,000 per day" in wages during the strike.

Negotiations were scheduled to resume today between the company and representatives.

Besides the wage increase the union has asked for a clause of seniority to be included in any new contract to provide for layoffs and recalls; a suitable method of ending grievances before an arbitrator, and permission to set up its own safety committees as in other plants where they have bargaining rights.

Carrier Mills Lions To Hold Auction for Benefit of Park Fund

The Carrier Mills Lions club auction, for the benefit of the park fund, will be held Saturday, starting at 2:30 p. m. in front of the Fire Insurance office, corner Main and Walnut streets, Carrier Mills. Harry Fife, president of the Lions club, stated that all proceeds from the auction will be used to equip the park, which is being sponsored by the Lions.

Some time ago the Lions club purchased a five-acre tract of ground about a mile from the business district and have spearheaded the program of clearing the ground. Clearing is approximately half completed, Mr. Fife stated.

Robert Whitney will be the auctioneer Saturday afternoon.

Bible Society Slashes Through Iron Curtain

BOSTON (U)—"God's smuggler"—bearded Rev. Basil A. Malof—told today how the Russian Bible Society is slashing through the Iron Curtain with "the two-edged sword of the Bible."

A charwoman in a Vienna bathhouse, a nightclub worker in Berlin, a Russian officer returning to his homeland after overseas duty... through these and other secret workers, Malof pierces the Soviet borders.

"We have placed 60,000 Bibles in Russia already. We now plan to print one million Bibles and five million New Testaments, all in the Russian language," he said. "We will get many thousands of these to Russia."

"When you realize that a Russian soldier today risks 12 years in prison, at the least, for smuggling a Bible home, then you know the power of this weapon in the cold war," he said.

Operate in Four Nations
"In this cold war, religion plays a much larger share than people like to think. In a hot war you need bombs; but a cold war is for men's minds, and that is where the Bible can help."

His clandestine smugglers now operate in four European nations, he said, putting Bibles aboard a modern "underground railroad" all the time. The Bibles are printed at Berne, Ind., and in Sweden.

Some of his most active helpers, he said, are refugees, such as the Rev. Oswald Blumit of Quincy, his group's national executive secretary. Others are members of anti-Communist political groups in nations pulled behind the Iron Curtain. Still other help comes from exiled Russian political leaders, like onetime Russian Premier Alexander Kerensky.

Malof, here for a fund-raising speech, has been fighting in the cause of Russian religion since 1907. He founded in St. Petersburg the first Protestant church in Russia. The parish, "Dom Evangelia," now is a dance hall. His headquarters now is in Washington, D. C.

Fred H. Wasson is Elected President of Greater Egypt Ass'n

Fred H. Wasson, Carrier Mills merchant and secretary of Egyptian Retailers association, was elected Thursday evening as president of the Greater Egypt association.

William H. Farley of Harrisburg is executive secretary and treasurer, and the retiring president and secretary are Walter Whitehead and Gene Comte of Murphysboro.

The membership meeting of the association was held in the pleasant setting of the Southern Illinois University cafeteria dining room. On display for the occasion were pictures of scenic attractions of southern Illinois.

Outlines were at each plate to show objectives of G. E. A. as presented to the area development commission when it was entertained by G. E. A. on a tour of southern Illinois in 1948. Progress on each point was shown and suggestions on revised objectives proposed for consideration by the members. There was also a statement showing various groups in southern Illinois interested in promotion of scenic, historic, recreational, wild life and natural resources attractions of the area with a list of mutually desirable objectives that might be achieved through co-operative effort.

President Morris of S. I. U. discussed the many activities of the university related to the objectives of G. E. A.

Robert Krajci, Scout executive for the Egyptian council, reported on progress with the help of volunteers in taking advantage of the water resources of Little Grassie lake amidst the new pine forests.

Foreign Aid Measure Sent To White House

Compromise Bill Calls for Spending Of $3,054,000,000

WASHINGTON (U)—The Senate Thursday night gave final congressional approval to a bill authorizing $3,054,000,000 in military, economic and technical aid to the free world.

The measure, passed by a voice vote, now goes to the White House for President Eisenhower's signature.

The compromise measure, worked out by House-Senate conferees, was approved by the House Monday. The upper chamber still has to act on a House-approved appropriations bill to provide actual money for the aid program.

The $3,054,000,000 figure is approximately halfway between the $3,338,000,000 authorization voted by the House and the $2,740,000,000 authorized by the Senate. The Eisenhower administration originally asked $3,440,000,000.

The House has approved an appropriation of $2,895,944,000 to finance the program. The Senate Appropriations committee has approved a total of $2,990,824,816, still awaiting final action by the Senate.

Although the compromise authorization bill provides another year of overseas aid programs, it contains a Senate provision to abolish the Foreign Operations Administration on June 30, 1955, and require liquidation of the economic aid program within a year after that.

However, no cutoff date was set for the military assistance programs, which would be transferred by the President to some other agency.

Evan Dale Asks Separate Trial on Each of 30 Counts

EAST ST. LOUIS (U)—Evan Dale, boss of the AFL Laborers Union in Southern Illinois, said the government is trying to convict him "by repetition" for labor racketeering.

Attorneys for Dale filed a motion in United States District Court here Thursday which asked that he be tried separately on each of 30 counts contained in a racketeering indictment against him.

The motion said the 30 counts were unrelated to each other and that to try him on all charges at once would be an attempt to convict "by repetition, thus using tactics developed by totalitarian countries."

The petition contended that trial jurors would be unable to keep the counts separate in their minds. The 30-count indictment charges Dale with extorting or conspiring to extort $67,000 from 17 contractors.

Several Hundred Attend SEIEC Meeting; Three Trustees Elected

Several hundred people were present at this morning's session of the Southeastern Illinois Electric Co-op's 15th annual meeting, currently in progress at the SEIEC headquarters, just east of Eldorado.

The Thursday program also included a welcome by Eldorado's Mayor Upchurch, a House of Magic show and a Job Training and safety demonstration.

A beauty contest and return of the three talent contest winners of Thursday night were highlights on this afternoon's program. The annual meeting was scheduled to close with this session.

This morning's business session also included the reading of the 1953 annual meeting minutes and the secretary-treasurer's report. Tom Clevenger presided at the session following the opening welcome to members by Ray Webb, president of the board of trustees. Address by T. Leo Dodd.

Members of the co-operative also voted to amend a section of the by-laws on the filling of trustee vacancies which occur during the year by death, resignation or disqualification.

George Lewis of Sesser was the winner of the "early bird" prize, an electric range.

The speaker at the morning program was T. Leo Dodd, prominent Eldorado resident and president of that city's Community Development association. Dodd was introduced by B. E. Skelton.

Speaking on "The Eldorado Story," Dodd related for his listeners the conception and progress of the now-popular Eldorado "Operation Bootstrap." He traced the steps of the organization from its very beginning to the present moment.

Democracy at Work
Richard Poston of the SIU community service department gave the people the theme for their work. Dodd stated, by imparting to them that the spirit of democracy is engendered among the people and not on paper. "You are democracy at work," Dodd said, "became a meaningful phrase."

The speaker listed city hall improvements, a flower show, park project and a farm program in the outlying community as only a few of the "good things" which have come out of the movement.

At last night's session, a talent contest was held with the Knight sisters, a vocal trio from Franklin.

Navy Club Group Of Boys To Visit Sahara 5 Tuesday

Thirty-five Illinois high school youths have been chosen as members of the crew for the fifth annual "Young Pioneers Historical Cruise," a youth project sponsored by the Illinois Squadron, Navy Club of U. S. A.

The boys have been chosen by local sponsors located in various cities of Illinois in which are located Navy Club organizations. The 5 day tour will commence on Saturday, Aug. 14, at Springfield and will cover about 850 miles by chartered bus, traveling over a prearranged route. Stops will be made at historical spots and shrines of Illinois and will also include an inspection of a coal mine and visits to the fruit orchards and oil fields of southern Illinois.

The tour is provided to the boys without cost, funds for the cruise being furnished by the State Navy Club Squadron and in part by local sponsors.

On Tuesday at 10 a. m. the group will arrive at Sahara Coal Co. mine No. 5 for an inspection trip, followed by picnic lunch at the company's lake.

The boys will visit Shawneetown area and then head north through oil fields of Illinois to Vincennes to see George Rogers Clark memorial and pick up the Lincoln trail into Illinois.

Soviets Boost Price of Food

LONDON (U)—The Soviet Council of Ministers today raised the retail price of potatoes, fruits and vegetables in Russia.

The government explained, in a broadcast heard here, that the jacked-up prices were intended as "an incentive to production."

Russia in the past has repeatedly boasted of price cuts in basic food stuffs and consumer goods.

The decision was interpreted here as an indication that Soviet farms have fallen behind in producing and shipping to markets the food items covered by the decree.

World Church Assembly to Start Sunday

CHICAGO (U)—The World Council of Churches representing 48 countries on both sides of the Iron Curtain will open its second International Assembly here on Sunday.

A huge "festival of faith" in Chicago's Soldier Field will signal the beginning of the two-week meeting. Most other sessions will be held at Northwestern University.

The council, founded in Amsterdam in 1948, is the first global movement designed to create greater unity among non-Roman Catholic churches. It represents 170 million Protestant and Orthodox Christians throughout the world and encompasses 161 denominations.

Religious leaders expect development of historic significance from the meeting which is the first since the council was organized. While Christian unity is the main theme, differences of opinion are expected to arise.

Some Antagonism Expected
Dr. William A. Visser 't Hooft, general secretary of the council told a news conference that some antagonism toward the council itself was expected.

Some of the 1,600 delegates will come from communist countries.

Visser 't Hooft, a member of the Netherlands Reformed Church, would not predict what the assembly will have to say about communism, but he said the subject is certain to be discussed.

"There is no question where 95 per cent of the participants stand on the subject," he said. "The vast majority will want to make a complete statement on communism, not so much from the political as from the ideological standpoint."

Committee Prepares Report
An advisory committee already has prepared a massive report on the assembly's main theme — "Christ, the Hope of the World."

The report will be placed before the delegates for their consideration.

Like a similar report issued by the first assembly at Amsterdam, it criticizes both communism and capitalism, reserving its strongest blasts against the Communist denial of God and rejection of His sovereignty.

Visser 't Hooft emphasized the report was not intended to dictate policy for individual churches and denominations, but was to serve as a "touchstone" in Christian relations.

Delegates will include such noted clergymen as Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam of the United States, pastor Martin Niemoller of Germany and the Archbishop of Canterbury. Delegates from Iron Curtain countries were granted special permission from the U. S. State Department to attend.

Bill to Increase Veterans' Pensions Goes to White House

WASHINGTON (U)—The Senate Thursday night passed and sent to the White House legislation to increase the pensions paid to 943,800 veterans and their dependents by 5 per cent.

The measure affects all pensions administered by the Veterans Administration except the so-called Navy pension allowance to certain Navy and Marine Corps veterans and payments to those who receive pensions as a part of service in the yellow fever study in Cuba.

The Veterans Administration estimated that the 5 per cent increase would be received by 544,700 veterans and 399,100 dependents of deceased veterans. Estimated cost the first year is about $35,953,000.

Display 13-Inch Cucumber

A cucumber, measuring 13 inches in length, was being displayed at The Daily Register office yesterday by Bill Owen.

Owen, who resides in the Providence community three miles west of Carrier Mills, said he had planted three rows of cucumbers in his one acre garden this year. All are of the Improved Long Green seed and have achieved better than average size.

Order Measure Sent Back To Conferees

Action is Sharp Rebuff for the Administration

WASHINGTON (U)—The Senate today overrode a last-minute plea from President Eisenhower and voted to reject a compromise version of the administration's much-debated atomic energy bill.

Senate rejection was on a roll call vote of 48-41. Then the Senate, by voice vote, ordered the bill sent back to a Senate-House conference committee for re-drafting.

Only two Democrats, Sens. Harry F. Byrd (Va.) and J. William Fulbright (Ark.), voted with 39 Republicans to approve the compromise bill.

It was rejected by a combination of 5 Republicans, 42 Democrats and Sen. Wayne L. Morse (Ind.-Ore.). Republicans voting against the measure were Sens. John Sherman Cooper (Ky.), Henry C. Dworshak (Idaho), William Langer (N. D.), George W. Malone (Nev.) and Milton R. Young (N. D.).

Rebuff for Administration
The action was a sharp rebuff for administration leaders who last month rode out a 13-day Senate filibuster to obtain passage of a Senate bill which differed from the House-approved version.

The action came a few minutes after the Senate was told that President Eisenhower had given his blessing to the compromise.

Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), floor manager of the bill, placed in the record a letter from Mr. Eisenhower saying he had examined the bill carefully and believed it contained nothing that would harm rural electrification cooperatives or the Rural Electrification Administration.

Hickenlooper warned that returning the bill to conference committee would be "the end" of the vital legislation.

Other Congress highlights: BUDGET. Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) demanded that the administration submit a balanced budget to Congress next year. He made the demand in a speech prepared for delivery during debate on legislation to authorize a temporary six-billion-dollar increase in the national debt limit. The legal ceiling now is 275 billion dollars.

COMMUNISTS. Dr. Bella V. Dodd, an admitted former Communist, said "decent" newspapermen shouldn't report the "antics of Communist witnesses" before congressional committees. She testified before a Senate Rules subcommittee considering new congressional hearing procedures.

FARM. The threat of a presidential veto all but squelched farm bloc hopes to boost dairy price supports and let wheat farmers decide on a two-price system. The issues were the chief stumbling blocks as a Senate-House conference committee sought to reach a final compromise on the overall farm bill. Mr. Eisenhower renewed his opposition to the proposals Thursday in letters to conference leaders.

Studebaker Workers Agree to Accept Pay Cut

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (U)—The grateful Studebaker Corp. promised its employees more work and doubled production in return for their acceptance of a 10 to 15 per cent pay cut.

Paul G. Hoffman, corporation chairman, said the employees' landslide decision Thursday opens the way "for Studebaker to roll into high gear."

James D. Hill, international representative of the CIO United Auto Workers here, said the vote "gives the company a fighting chance—before they didn't even have that."

The company, fighting to hold its own in the tough auto market, had warned the workers it would close the plant and throw 11,000 persons out of work if they didn't take the pay cut.

But there was no bitterness as the union members reversed their decision of a week ago and voted 5,371-626, to accept the slash.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

A prudent man concealeth knowledge; but the heart of fools proclaimeth foolishness. — Prov. 12:23.
Some men have won a great reputation for erudition because they were reticent about expressing opinions. No one knows it all, and wise men often wait to be asked their opinion before expressing it.

Dream Fulfilled

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT

Long before American steel experts began to worry seriously about depletion of the nation's high-grade iron ore reserves, it was known that rich deposits lay untapped in the frozen wastes of northern Quebec. Getting at them seemed a remote dream.

Yet just a few days ago, the dream was realized. The first trainloads of ore were hauled 360 miles south over a line that had been painfully hacked out of the wilderness. At the rail terminus of Seven Islands on the St. Lawrence River, the ore was dumped into ocean-going vessels for shipment to American steel mills at Philadelphia and Baltimore.

Later on, a good share of the ore will be put aboard lake barges for transport to Great Lakes steel centers. When the St. Lawrence seaway is developed bigger vessels can handle the lake traffic.
By 1957, the flow of iron ore from the Ungava region will approach 10 million tons a year. The total reserve there is a staggering two billion tons, enough to fight four wars of the size of World War II.

This country can be thankful that so bountiful a store lies within the protection of North America's continental limits. The opening of this field is tantamount to taking out a new insurance policy against the hazards of enemy depredation.

Through Baltimore and Philadelphia are being served from Ungava by coastwise shipping, in time of war the Quebec ore presumably could be shipped mostly by rail to eastern cities—however much the cost.

This reserve plus new production of American ores from low-grade taconite in the once-rich Minnesota region could go far toward feeding the U. S. industrial machine in an emergency. Obviously it would be harder to protect over-water supply lines from newly developed ore fields in Venezuela.

Tribute should be paid to the men who made Ungava a reality. Some $250 million was spent. The project's managers organized the biggest civilian airlift in history to bring in construction materials, food and other items for the 6,000 workers who built the mining site, laid down the railroad and erected port facilities.

This was a notable example of free enterprise at its most energetic and imaginative. We cannot forget that before a dream can be realized, it must be dreamt. Men like Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey, a Cleveland industrialist, and Jules R. Timmins had the vision to see Ungava's potentialities.

So long as projects of this sort can be brought to fulfillment, America's industrial greatness is secure.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Ike Tells Knowland To Pipe Down On Indo-China Criticism; Senate Debate On Atomic Power Illustrates Why New England Factories Move South; New Hampshire Senator Was Private Power Lobbyist.

WASHINGTON.—President Eisenhower, who makes it a practice not to lose his temper in public but doesn't hesitate to boil over privately, is hopping mad at his Senate Majority leader.

For weeks he has been irked at the way Senator Knowland has been sounding off on foreign policy, as if he, not John Foster Dulles, were secretary of state. Finally, he as much as told Knowland this to his face.

At a White House meeting Ike told the California senator to stop denouncing the Indo-China settlement as if another Munich.

At Munich, Eisenhower said, something was given away to the other side. In Indo-China we didn't give away a single thing that the Communists hadn't already won on the battlefield.

Since then, Knowland has not particularly soft-pedaled his criticism of the Indo-China settlement, and, as a result, it looks as if the President might have a new majority leader at the next session of Congress.

For some time, of course, Vice President Nixon, who is the natural California rival of Senator Knowland, has been hoping that Knowland would eventually cut his own throat. Nixon at one time leaned toward Senator Dirksen of Illinois to be majority leader. But now it's reported that Ike might take Senator Ferguson of Michigan to replace Knowland, if Ferguson wins by a wide enough margin in November.

WHY INDUSTRY MOVES SOUTH
Traveling up the Connecticut river through western New England a few weeks ago, the big complaint I heard from businessmen was that industry was moving south.

The hat industry was leaving Norwalk, Conn., for Dixie; the textile industry had left for Alabama and Mississippi; chimneys were smokeless, factory walls leaked glum and foreboding, indicative of the gradual change in the face of the onetime industrial heart of America. It's the biggest change since free land was opened up in the west.

While this change is being mourned in New England, a debate has been taking place in Washington which reaches to the bottom of one cause for the southward trek of New England factories—the fact that New England has the highest electric power rate in the U. S.

WASHINGTON PIPELINE

The Democrats have put one over on the Republicans when it comes to getting publicity photos of Ike. Over 100 GOP congressmen lined up at the White House recently for individual publicity poses with the President. But for over a year, the Dems have been quietly collecting autographed photos from the President also. As a result, at least 100 Democratic congressmen now have photos personally addressed to them, in which he calls them "distinguished citizens."

Before his suicide, the late Senator Lester Hunt tried to push through an anti-racketeering bill that would crack down on gangsters who muscle in on legitimate business. The bill is now gathering cobwebs in the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce committee.

Friends Come to Aid of Cashier Arrested in $511,000 Bank Shortage

FAIRMONT, W. Va. (AP)—Friends came to the aid today of a bank cashier and prominent citizen who was arrested in connection with a reported $511,000 bank shortage.

They posted $20,000 bond for John W. Meredith, 50, and he was released to face grand jury action in September on four counts of mishandling funds of the First National Bank of Fairmont, where he had been employed for 21 years.

Meredith, married and the father of a daughter who teaches at a local school, was arrested in his home Thursday night by FBI agents on a complaint charging him specifically with mishandling $25,000.

The bank's board of directors announced Meredith's suspension as cashier a few hours before his arrest. He had served as cashier for seven years.

Friends Post Bond
When arraigned before U. S. Commissioner L. T. Eddy, Meredith refused to comment on the charges. He said he was "not a wealthy man" and could not post $20,000 bond. Friends posted it for him.

They described the cashier as a "moderately conservative family man" who with his wife was an active member of the First Methodist church. He is a member of numerous civic organizations, they said, and also served as director of several Fairmont business firms.

The FBI charged the cashier made incorrect entries of $13,700 and $766 on or about last March 1 in two accounts on which his name appeared as trustee. He also was accused of honoring two checks totalling $11,073 drawn from a depositor's account without charging the account.

While the FBI placed the bank shortage at $511,000, it did not explain what happened to the remaining funds. It refused to say whether any of the funds had been recovered from Meredith.

Rhee Returns

To South Korea

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—President Syngman Rhee returned to the Republic of Korea today from his visit to the United States and said it was a "great success" even though he didn't get what he wanted.

The 79-year-old President said he went to America with the hope of winning United States and United Nations' support for an attack on the North but found the situation was "unfavorable."

"I found that the situation was unfavorable at the highest level and I therefore did not make the proposal," Rhee said. "I believe that my trip has been a great success."

Four Pending Suits May Swallow Up Most of Funds Salvaged in Knetzer Estate

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—The financial web spun by the late Robert L. Knetzer, which snarled court machinery for five years, today promised to cost the people a lot more money before it's unraveled.

Knetzer will have been dead one year Aug. 25, and next October will mark the sixth year since his impossible but enticing auto sales scheme was unmasked, with losses of at least four million dollars.

Knetzer made a name for himself after World War II by selling "new-used" cars at Edwardsville at fabulously low prices—and at a loss. He took hundreds of deposits on promises to deliver cars later.

His operation went bankrupt in October, 1948, when too many customers demanded their money back after failing to get cars.

From that date until he died, this master confidence man was able to take perhaps as much as another $400,000 from those who believed he still had a pot of gold at the end of his painted rainbows. Never Expressed Regrets

To the last, no one heard Knetzer express any doubts of regrets about the losses. In his final court appearance he described himself as a man never given a "chance to make good."

Now, 559 claimants of more than one million dollars are hoping to share in the $376,515 estate salvaged from the millions that passed through Knetzer's free-spending hands.

But before the "genuine" creditors can be paid off, the federal court and referee-in-bankruptcy must dispose of four suits that could swallow up half the estate. In addition, fees for attorneys and bankruptcy officials will be deducted.

The first legal action on the four suits comes Sept. 7, when Federal Judge J. LeRoy Adair, Peoria, is scheduled to hear a suit against the bankruptcy trustee by Ralph W. Riley, former Missouri implement dealer.

Adair is also expected to sit for the referee in bankruptcy in the other three cases, according to Referee Basil H. Contrakon. Federal Judge Charles G. Briggie, Springfield, who made the decision to let Knetzer go fortune-hunting after his bankruptcy, has removed himself in favor of Adair in the court suit.

G. William Horsley, Springfield, attorney for the Knetzer estate trustee, believes if he can win the special suits the Knetzer creditors will get back "at least" 25 cents on the dollar.

This would be far more than the 19 cents which creditors recently got from the bankrupt estate of Arthur Kramer, Jerseyville farmer who sold cars supplied by Knetzer in his "alfalfa field showroom."

Although Knetzer was paying car dealers "gray market" prices of $2,400 to $2,600 for most of the cars, he was selling them himself for about $1,700 and selling them to Kramer for as low as $1,300.

New Legion Chief Defends Action Against Girl Scouts

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (AP)—The new state commander of the American Legion today stoutly defended the organization's recent withdrawal of support of the Girl Scouts.

Irving Breakstone, Chicago, supported the stand taken at the Legion's state convention in a statement which was issued through the Illinois Legion public relations office.

The Legion criticized the Girl Scout handbook for omitting "basic citizenship data" and for recommending "highly" the works of "pro-Communist" authors.

Breakstone said the Girl Scouts magazine had endorsed writings of Langston Hughes and Dorothy Canfield Fisher. Both have been "cited" in congressional reports for affiliation with numerous "Communist-front" organizations, he said.

Breakstone said only 10 pages of the 1953 Girl Scout handbook "were devoted to American citizenship" while 2 "deals with internationalism." He criticized references to the United Nations in the handbook.

"We want no substitution of the U. N. charter for our Constitution and Bill of Rights, especially in view of the fact that the U. N. charter was the handiwork of Alger Hiss," he said.

I'm always ready to "GO!"

Always feel like a "Million!"

Always drink lots of that wonderful NEW ERA Milk!

The hit that's changing the sales standings puts you way ahead 3 ways

1. More new car for your money

Buick prices start close to the lowest—just a few dollars above those of the traditional "low-price three." But those few more dollars for a Buick get you a lot more automobile—more room, more comfort, more V8 power, more ride steadiness, more solid durability—plus the advanced "tomorrow" styling that has taken the country by storm.

2. More money for your present car

With our great and growing sales volume, we can offer you a bigger trade-in allowance on your present car when you buy a new Buick. After all, the more new cars we sell, the better deal we can make with you. So you get the benefit of our great success in the form of a higher trade-in allowance.

3. More dollars when you trade

Because Buick's broad panoramic windshield has started a whole new styling trend, you can be sure that today's Buick will keep its modern look for years to come. So you are assured of a higher resale figure when you trade it in later on.

Come see for yourself why—

The Women's Missionary Society of McKinley Baptist church met Wednesday afternoon at the church for the regular business and missionary program.

Mrs. Nettie Yarbrough, president, presided over the business session which opened with the song "Jesus Saves" and with prayer by Mrs. Sophia Alexander, a visitor from the Carmi Children's home. Roll call was answered by 17 members with each giving a scripture verse.

It was announced that a book study would be held August 16 and 17 at 7 p. m. at the McKinley church for the W. M. S. members. Mrs. D. H. Hiller is teaching the adult book, "Stewardship Applied in Missions."

The nominating committee reported the new members for the year as follows: Mrs. Yarbrough, president; Mrs. Jane Gasaway, enlistment chairman; Mrs. Helen Smith, program chairman; Mrs. Juanita McCarty, secretary and treasurer, assisted by Mrs. Mary Agin; Mrs. Louise Fulkerson, pianist, and Mrs. Helen Smith, choirster.

Mrs. Carsa Gardner was in charge of the royal service program, entitled "The Challenge of Indonesia." The song, "America" was sung and prayer was offered by Mrs. Gertrude Hendren. Mrs. Gardner gave the devotion taking her text from John 3:1-17 verses which show Christ's love for all men everywhere and that man must be born again to inherit eternal life.

As the interest center, a map of the Pacific Islands was used on a background of blue with the letters "Indonesia" written across the poster.

Mrs. Juanita McCarty spoke on "An Important Chain of Islands"; Mrs. Ada Rann, "The Cry is Merdeka—Freedom"; Mrs. Ruth Gaskins, "Binding Webs"; Mrs. Jane Gasaway, "Think of Christmas in 1951"; Mrs. Molly Ervin, "Some Have Accepted True Freedom"; and Mrs. Nettie Yarbrough, "We Help to Make Their Future."

The closing prayer was by Mrs. Della McDonald asking that we, as Southern Baptists, may meet the challenge of Indonesia by our giving, our praying and by sending missionaries. Will you help?

Illinois State Fair Briefs

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — A Chicago artist today won first prize in the old Northwest Territory art exhibit at the Illinois State Fair.

The $500 award went to Rudolph Pen for a watercolor titled "Composition."

Nicola Ziroli, Urbana, won $400 first prize in the oil division. Other winners in that division included Robert M. Freimark, Toledo, Ohio, $300; Aaron Bohrod, Madison, Wis., $200; Joseph Frieber, Milwaukee, Wis., $50; and Robert O. Hodgell, Urbana, $50.

Barbara Aubin, Chicago, took the $200 first prize in the watercolor division. Nicholas Britsky, Urbana, won $100; Gertrude Harbart, Michigan City, Ind., $50; Ruth Horsting, Winnetka, $50, and June Lukosh, Chicago, $50.

Paul Truax, Springfield, captured the basketball shooting contest for boys under 16 today. Contestants were allowed five shots from 15 feet away at a hoop with no backboard. Robert Crossin and Richard Finn, both of New Berlin, took second and third, respectively.

A blouse, a stuffed toy, a dress and a pair of pajamas won the sweepstakes award in the cotton feed bag sewing contest for Mrs. Arthur Brockschmidt, Springfield.

Winners of other blue ribbons in that event included Grace Montgomery, Maroa; Mrs. H. W. Cummings, Chambersburg; Mrs. Chester C. Scott, Chatham, and Mrs. Owen T. Gribbin, Grant Park.

Three contestants took two first place awards each in the amateur art exhibit — Mrs. C. E. Leverich, Champaign; Mrs. Irma Shriver, Springfield, and Charles Burrus, Springfield.

Other who got first place ribbons included Mrs. Maude Moxley, Chatham; Ida Stubblefield, Decatur; Cecilia Vits, Taylorville; Joann Reznay, East St. Louis, and Bill Ballian, Taylorville.

Judging began today in the bee culture exhibit, which will be completed Saturday evening. Supt. Carl E. Killion, Paris, said 16 entrants are competing for $1,654 in premiums. They include L. Peterson and Son, Kewanee, showing at the fair for their 25th year.

Rites for Infant

Funeral services were held today at 2 p. m. at the Baptist church in Eddyville for the infant son, Bobby, of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy McDonald, Eddyville. The baby died Wednesday evening in the Lightner hospital.

Rev. Clayton Humphrey officiated, and burial was in the Eddyville cemetery.

Eisenhower Holds Key to Fate of Bill Outlawing Communist Party in U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower apparently held the key today to the fate of a bill to outlaw the Communist party which was whipped through the Senate in a surprise, Democrat-led maneuver.

If the White House passes the word that it wants the bill included in its package of anti-subversive measures, House leaders are expected to press for its passage before Congress adjourns.

But if the administration sticks to its past opposition to outlawing the party, as voiced by Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr., the measure likely will die in a House pigeon hole.

In a surprise action that caught Republican leaders off guard, the Senate voted 85 to 0 late Thursday for the measure which would make the Communist party illegal and impose heavy fines and jail terms on active party members.

Sponsored By Humphrey

The bill was sponsored by Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.), 18 other Democrats and independent Sen. Wayne Morse (Ore.) as a substitute for an administration-backed bill to crack down on Red-tainted unions and business firms.

After a series of complicated parliamentary maneuvers, the two proposals were wrapped into a single bill on a motion by Sen. Price Daniel (D-Tex.). This was accomplished by an 85 to 1 vote with Sen. Herbert H. Lehman (D-NY) the lone dissenter.

The action also caught House Republican leaders by surprise. They were noncommittal on what action would be taken in the House. GOP Floor Leader Charles A. Hall

THE SCOREBOARD

Braves' Drive is Making Charlie Grimm Manager of Year

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor
NEW YORK (NEA)—The best manager usually is the bloke with the most good ballplayers.

But the fellow in the pilot house also can turn in a standout job—Paul Richards of the White Sox, for example—and Charley Grimm with the Braves.

Birdie Tebbets of the Reds was the early choice, but the Milwaukee club's sustained drive rapidly is making the veteran Grimm the major league manager-of-the-year.

And it required more than the rooting of the wild-eyed Sudsville fans to lift the Tribe from seventh place to second last season.

The well balanced and now steady Braves—19 and 5 and 14 of the last 16 closing the eastern trip—reflect the even temperament of their head man.

Grimm is as delightful as a cooling glass of Milwaukee beer on a hot afternoon. Win, lose or draw, he is the same amiable Dutchman. Having twice come back from the minors, he takes ups and downs in stride. He developed an ulcer suppressing his emotions while dispensing jokes to the gang.

No manager is as close to his hired hands. The Braves come close to being a Grimm product, the Missouri dirt farmer having developed the bulk of them either in the minors or with the Braves. Having made up his mind on an athlete, Grimm sticks by him, which is not the least reason why players come through for him.

When the Braves were 15½ games off the pace, July 21, no one gave up.

"We'll be OK as soon as Ed Mathews starts hitting," Grimm kept saying—and the Braves were.

Grimm is extremely proud of the fact that the lineup now stepping on the heels of the Dodgers and Giants is the same one which was 15½ lengths back more than half of the season gone.

The only change was the installation of 20-year-old Henry Aaron as the clean-up man, when the burden proved too much for Mathews, Joe Adcock and the well-seasoned Andy Patko.

The Braves dropped 24 games by one run, yet Grimm sat tight. He knew he was fielding the best lineup he had. He refused to be stampeded, so the Braves were panic-proof.

When Bobby Thomson shattered his ankle in a spring exhibition game, the boss remarked that it was just as well for the club to get all the broken bones out of its system before the real firing commenced.

He stressed how fortunate the club was to have a splendid center fielder like Bill Bruton and a fine young man like Aaron to round out the outfield. Aaron had no more than a season and a half of organized ball no higher than A behind him and only a Puerto Rican winter in the outfield.

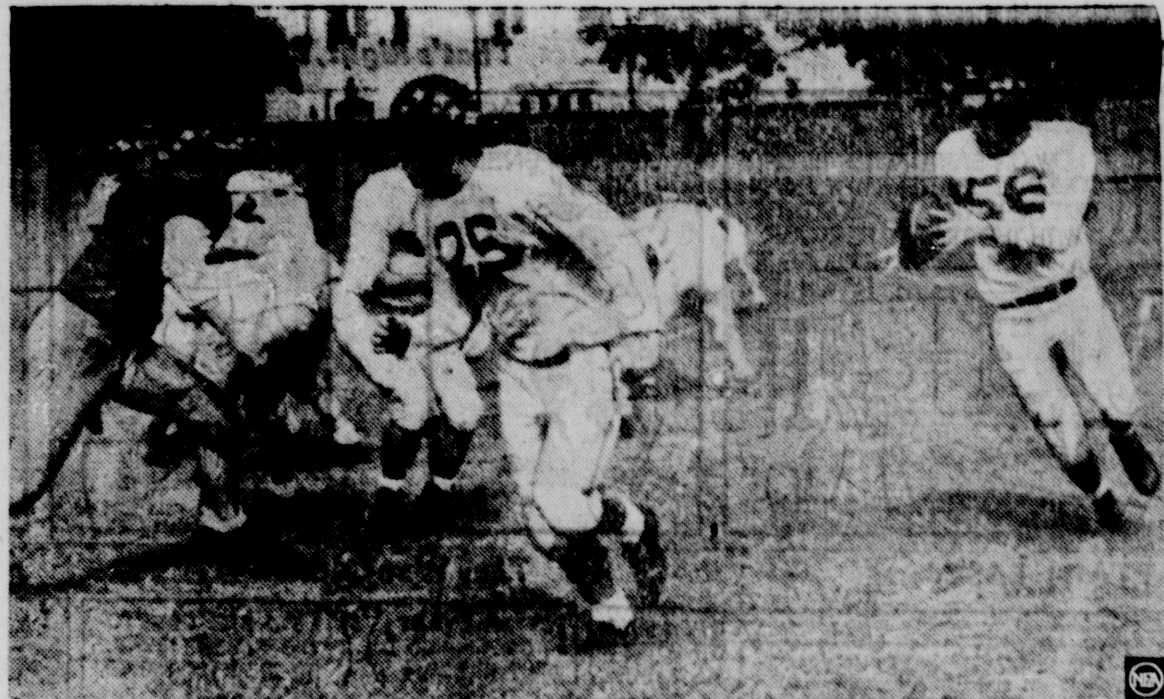

Grimm kept telling the Braves that they still would have Thomson's big bat in the order, gave them something to look forward to.

"The turning point," he says, "was when Thomson, pinch-hitting for the first time, singled over shortstop Hoyt Wilhelm to beat the Giants in the ninth inning in their last series in Milwaukee. That gave us a tremendous lift. He has won three other games with pinch hits."

Bobby Thomson may not do anything more than pinch hit the rest of the way.

But Grimm turned a frightening accident into an asset.

Charlie Grimm is a psychologist as well as a strategist.

HERE WE GO AGAIN—Johnny Lattner, who played so much halfback for Notre Dame, takes a toss from Stanford's Bobby Garrett and goes 35 yards for the All-Stars in a scrimmage session at Purdue. Nate Gressette, 25, of Clemson is running interference. The former collegians tackle the Detroit Lions in the All-Star Game at Chicago's Soldier Field tonight. (NEA)

Sports Briefs

NEW YORK (AP)—Fred Christ, Fordham university's 1951-52 captain and leading scorer, signed a National Basketball Assn. contract Thursday with the New York Knickerbockers. The 6-foot-4-inch, 210-pound Christ scored 1,035 points in three varsity seasons. He lives in Glendale, N. Y., and recently was discharged from the Army.

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP)—Jockey Raymond Belanger, Amesbury, Mass., the leading rider at Wheeling Downs, increased his victory total to 24 Thursday when he booted home three straight winners.

WINNIPEG, Man. (AP)—According to Ducks Unlimited, a Canadian periodical on sport and conservation, the duck crop in the prairie region of western Canada will be "late but good" this year. The report states that new broods are appearing daily and indications are that they will continue to materialize through August and into September.

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Harry Taylor Jr., star pitcher for Fort Worth Poly last season has turned down a New York baseball Giants bonus of "near $40,000" and instead will enroll at the University of Texas on a baseball scholarship in September for a pre-dentistry course.

STEVENS POINT, Wis. (AP)—Val Joe Walker, the Green Bay Packers' standout defensive halfback last season, may be in the starting lineup Saturday when the Packers meet the Chicago Cardinals in their first exhibition game of the season.

Walker, who quit pro football to take a job with an oil concern in Texas last year, decided to give "the game another whirl" recently.

The Packers worked through various offensive and defensive formations Thursday in preparation for Saturday's game, the first for Coach Liz Blackburn in the NEL.

MENLO PARK, Calif. (AP)—Coach Buck Shaw of the San Francisco Forty-Niners said today there will be no change from last Sunday's lineup when the Forty-Niners meet the New York Giants this Sunday in San Francisco's Kezar Stadium.

Shaw had the huge squad working on pass patterns during Thursday's drill and said the team should begin tapering off today for Sunday's game, the second exhibition game thus far for the Forty-Niners.

Detroit Lions a Two Touchdown Favorite Over All-Stars Tonight

CHICAGO (AP)—The Detroit Lions were a two-touchdown favorite today to whip the College All Stars in the 21st annual clash between the pro champions and the top collegians, but the one-planet system was expected to hamper the Lions' drive toward a victory.

"It's going to be mighty tough to play that way," Detroit Coach Buddy Parker said, "and we aren't at all happy we have to do it."

Under the contract between the Chicago Tribune, sponsors of the game, and the National Football League, collegiate rules are used in the game. Hence while the pros played the platoon system last year, the colleges played one-planet football and tonight's game, slated for coast to coast television, will follow that pattern.

Voigts Says It Depends

"We don't know whether it will help us or hurt us," Coach Bob Voigts of the All Stars said. "It all depends on what he does to the other guy. If it hurts him, then it will help us, because it certainly can't hurt us."

Both teams reported no major injuries for the battle, in which the pros have won 12 times while losing six and tying twice.

It was expected the collegians would throw frequently during the spectacle as Head Coach Jim Tatum planned to use his split T formation with Georgia's Zeke Bratkowski, rated a fancy thrower, as his starting quarterback.

"We've got 27 or 28 real good athletes," Tatum said, "and if they decide they've got something to play for, then it might be a hell of a game."

Four Receivers Start

Also among the probable starters were four good receivers, ends Dick Detrick of Pittsburgh and Carlton Massey of Texas, and halfbacks Johnny Lattner of Notre Dame and Chet Hanulak of Maryland.

The Lions were expected to have an edge in weight over the All Stars, but to be at a disadvantage in line speed. Backfields were rated about equal speed.

The probable starting lineups: All Stars

Lions

State Officials

Escape Injury

In Auto Accident

FARMERSVILLE, Ill. (AP)—Three state officials escaped injury in a "chain-reaction" auto accident.

The mishap occurred as they were returning from ceremonies Thursday at Litchfield, which opened 12 miles of four-lane pavement on U. S. Route 66.

State Supt. of Education Vernon L. Nickell braked his automobile suddenly on wet pavement when a car ahead abruptly turned off the road. Earle B. Searcy, a clerk of the Illinois Supreme Court, was riding with Nickell.

Another auto, driven by Ralph B. Bartelsmeyer, chief state highway engineer, hit Nickell's car from behind. In turn, a truck hit Bartelsmeyer's car.

Those involved in the accident were only slightly shaken up and proceeded after a brief delay.

Indians Win But Yankees Cut Lead; Braves Gain With 3-1 Win Over Cardinals

By FRED DOWN
United Press Sports Writer
Bob Lemon, a frustrated utility infielder while Bob Feller was rewriting the American League record book with his fireball, today had one of his famous Cleveland Indian teammate's most cherished records within his grasp.

And it'll be the old story of the pupil matching the tutor when Lemon ties the mark because it was Feller who took the young Navy veteran under his wing in 1946 and helped mould him into one of baseball's best pitchers.

Lemon, now a mature mound pro of 33, needs only four more victories to achieve his sixth 20-game campaign for the Indians and tie Feller's club mark. The medium-sized right-hander notched No. 16 Thursday when the Indians routed the Detroit Tigers, 10-1, with a 13-hit attack that included home runs by Vic Wertz and Al Rosen.

Relieved by Mossi
Lemon struck out three, walked one and yielded only seven hits in eight innings Thursday before retiring for a pinch-hitter in the top of the ninth because Manager Al Lopez wanted young Don Mossi to have a workout. The victory was Lemon's seventh straight.

The Indians were equally gratified by Rosen's 20th homer of the year, hoping that it marked the end of his longest batting slump of the year. The hit was only Rosen's third in 42 trips to the plate.

The Indians, however, saw their first-place lead whittled to 2½ games when the New York Yankees scored 5-4 and 7-1 triumphs over the Philadelphia A's. Ed Lopat won his first game since July 17 with an eight-hitter in the opener and Tom Morgan pitched a seven-hitter in the nightcap for his first complete game since June 24.

Mantle Hits 25th Homer
Mickey Mantle hit his 25th homer of the year in the eighth inning to give the Yankees their winning margin in the first game and home runs by Hank Bauer and Gerry Coleman paced a 10-hit assault in the second game. The losses stretched the last-place Athletics' latest losing streak to eight games.

Frank Sullivan pitched his third shutout and ninth victory as the Boston Red Sox beat the Washington Senators, 5-0, after the Nats pounded out a 9-5 win in the opener of a double-header. Mickey Vernon drove in three runs for Washington with two doubles and a single in the first game while Jackie Jensen, who homered in the opener, sparked a four-run Red Sox rally with a two-run double in the nightcap.

Braves Take 17th of 19
The Milwaukee Braves surged to their 17th victory in 19 games with a 3-1 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals and the Cincinnati Redlegs downed the Chicago Cubs, 8-6, in the only National League games.

Warren Spahn tossed a six-hitter for his fifth straight win and his 13th of the year as the Braves

Airline to Drop 16,000 from Payroll

NEW YORK (AP) — American Airlines has announced that all 16,000 of its employees will be dropped from the payroll at midnight Sunday unless 1,200 striking pilots return to work.

American, the nation's largest domestic air carrier, has been forced to cancel all flights since July 30 when the pilots walked out in protest against non-stop coast-to-coast trips requiring more than eight hours flying time.

"All employees of the company, including management, will be off the payroll beginning Monday, Aug. 16, unless this strike is withdrawn by midnight Sunday, Aug. 15," C. R. Smith, president of the corporation, said Thursday night.

German Immigrant Is Executed

OSSINING, N. Y. (AP) — Gerhard Puff, a German immigrant who became one of this nation's most wanted criminals, was electrocuted at Sing Sing Prison Thursday night for killing an FBI agent.

The 40-year-old bank robber was brought into the death chamber at 11 p. m. He said "goodbye" to U. S. Marshal Thomas J. Lunney and smiled as he was strapped into the big oak chair. Prison doctors pronounced him dead at 11:08 p. m.

Puff was convicted of slaying Agent Joseph J. Brock in an effort to shoot his way out of a trap which 10 FBI men had laid for him in a New York City hotel. At the time, Puff was being sought for the robbery of the Johnson County National Bank of Prairie Village, Kan., of $62,655.

BITTER SAGE

By Frank Gruber

Copyright 1954 by Frank Gruber

THE STORY: Texas cowboys have just received their pay from Hong Kong Smith for driving one of his herds up the trail to Sage City, Kan., a booming town in 1877. Luke Miller, editor of the Sage City paper, battles to make the town a law-abiding place, but he is fighting against Jacob Fugger, who owns most of the businesses in town. An ace in the hole Miller does not realize he has is a printer known as John Bailey, who foiled a stage robbery at Turkey Creek. In reality, Bailey is Wes Tancered who killed the notorious outlaw Sam Older. Because Older was a legend, Tancered has become an outcast.

IX
Tancered seated the Bon Ton Cafe and seated himself on a stool beside a giant of a man, Bill Bleek. The waitress came up. "Hello, Mr. Bailey. What'll it be?" "What've you got besides steak?" "Steak." "Then make it steak." The girl went off and Bill Bleek turned to Bailey. "Like Sage City?" he asked. "A town's a town." "Most people don't like Sage City," Bleek went on. "Stranger in town got his teeth knocked out last week. Some broken ribs, too." "I mind my own business," Tancered said. "Like at Turkey Crossing?" Tancered looked sharply at Bleek. "Who knocked out this stranger's teeth?" "Me." "That's what I thought." "Bill Bleek is the handle. I work for Jacob Fugger." "I work for Luke Miller." "That's why I'm talking to you. You got a good set of teeth and there ain't no dentist in Sage City." Lee Kinnaid came in from the street. He frowned as he saw Bill Bleek, but he quickly erased the frown. "One of your Texas friends just killed a faro dealer over at McCoy's."

"You're the marshal." "Uh-uh, not any more I'm not." "Jacob know?" "I'm telling you to tell him." Bill Bleek looked at Kinnaid thoughtfully. Then he got up. "Well, since you ain't the marshal any more . . . Kinnaid in the face, a savage back-handed blow that knocked Kinnaid backward over a table. Kinnaid got to his feet, blood dribbling from his mouth. "Where's your gun, Bleek?" he cried. "You know I don't carry one." "Then get one." Bleek regarded Kinnaid impassively. "So you can gun me? Uh-uh, I'll fight any man living with my fists, but I'm no gunslinger. His eyes flickered to Tancered. "Hear that, Bailey?" "I heard it." "Get out of town, Kinnaid," sneered Bleek. "If you're not working for Jacob, you're against him." Bleek swaggered out of the restaurant. Kinnaid dabbed at the blood on his chin. "You saw that, Bailey," he said. "What do you think of it now?" "When I get back to the shop, I'm setting up an editorial that expresses it very well," Tancered paused. "The title is, 'Devil and Texas Rule Sage City.'" "Does the piece give the name of the Devil?" "Jacob Fugger." Kinnaid whistled. "I think I quit my job just in time!" "What about the deputies?" "Slattery's a Texas man himself. Only he can't go back to Texas because a couple of sheriffs want him. Chuck Gorey . . . Kinnaid shrugged. "He says he talked to you this morning." "Yes, he did." "Is it true, what he said?" "No." "Sorry to hear that. I was kind of wishing it was true. But the Turkey Crossing thing—that was true?" "They killed Vesser, the agent, in cold blood. I—I caught them by surprise." "Three against one?" "They weren't expecting it." Kinnaid shook his head slowly. "I have a strange notion, Bailey—that I'd rather fight Bill Bleek's fists than go up against you with a gun."

Jacob Fugger entered McCoy's Saloon and bore down on Hong Kong Smith who was leaning heavily against the bar. Fugger did not glance in the direction of the faro table, where the dealer lay on the floor. "Smith," Fugger snapped. "What's the name of the cowboy who shot Thatcher, the faro dealer?" Smith became cagey. "What do you wanna know for?" "So he can be arrested." "Nobody's going to arrest any of my men." "This man's going to be. He's got to be, Smith. He killed a man." "It was self-defense," Smith said doggedly. "All right, then he'll be acquitted. But he's got to stand trial, Smith. I go along with you pretty far, but I can't go along with you on killing. He's got to stand trial." "Harpending won't stand trial, Fugger. He's a high-spirited man and he won't—"

"Is this Manny Harpending you're talking about?" "One of the best boys in Texas." "The story is that he killed two men in Texas," snapped Fugger. "And that marshal over in Newton, two years ago. I still say he's got to give himself up."

"He won't."

"Then he's got to be arrested." Fugger held up his hand. "There were witnesses—you were a witness, weren't you?" Hong Kong Smith suddenly guffawed. "Yes, sir, I sure saw it. Manny shot the dealer in self-defense."

Polio Varies

In Two Counties With Vaccine

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Polio incidence varied widely today in two Illinois counties where Salk Vaccine was administered.

The State Public Health Department said its statistics showed an increase from 1953 in polio cases in Du Page County, while there was a reduction in Peoria County.

Salk vaccine was given to children in the two counties this spring as part of a nationwide experiment. Some got the vaccine, while others received a harmless "control" substance. Which children got the actual vaccine won't be revealed until later.

The State Health Department said that at this time a year ago, there were 30 polio cases in Peoria County and 19 in Du Page. So far this year, the department said, 14 cases have been reported in Peoria and 30 in Du Page.

No breakdown was available on how many of the victims were in the same age group as the children who received the Salk shots.

Figures for downstate Illinois showed a reduction from 531 cases a year ago to 281 this year. In Chicago, however, the number has increased from 102 in 1953 to 134 this year.

The state's figures varied somewhat from those reported locally, due to the lag in receiving the official case reports here from local health authorities.
